Burnstar is a 3D Action Puzzle game, inspired by the good times of classical adventure games of the 90's. A system of light puzzles, requiring a combination of logic, intuition and creativity, emulating the long times of adventure games when puzzle solving was the main story element. The game was released by new company Lunatic Studios. The game has a single player mode with customizable levels, inspired by adventure and puzzle games of the 90's, and a two player mode with special levels. You play the main protagonist, Jake, who woke up from a nightmare, remembering nothing of his past. He is the sole survivor of an alien attack, his only living link to a missing alien ship is his android companion, in which you will find his diary and, eventually, the secret of the universe. Features: - Single player mode with customizable levels and story - Two player mode with special levels - 3D environment inspired by classic adventure games - Multiple objectives - 3D puzzles - Single player and two player modes with customizable levels - The game is available for iOS, Windows, Android, and Mac OS Visit us at: www.burnstargame.com www.facebook.com/Burnstar SMS: 888-2CG E-mail: : info@lunaticstudios.com TESTIMONIALS "Lunatic Studios' first game is just so compelling and fun. Their concept has a truly unique sense of comic graphics that I haven't seen in mobile gaming to date." Dan Rajkovic "Very cute concept and presentation. I love the retro art style, the little details, the sound effects, and the music! In-game control felt very natural and intuitive." BestWorst "I couldn't tell you how fun I found it, but it's a blast! All the little secrets, that you unlock as you play, make it very immersive." 1up.com "Lunatic Studios has put in an amazing effort to turn a concept into a cohesive and entertaining full length adventure. I'm extremely impressed with their performance, and I've enjoyed my time with Burnstar immensely!" John Hamalainen "Fantastic game. Really plays wonderfully. Character development is ample. Nice sound effects and my favorite of all, the "space bar" for jumping

How to play the game: Select one of the instructions and press "Start Game".Rope control: The idea is to keep the rope in the right side in the level. The rope will be hanging in the middle of the area, and the player must bring it as close as possible. If the player loses the rope, the game is over.Timed: The goal of this game is to pass the level within a given amount of time.If you can meet the goal, you will get a green checkmark in the box next to your name. What's more, you will get a new level to complete. On the other hand, if you fail to complete the level within the time limit, you will lose 2 points from your score. If after 3 losses, then the game will be over.Different levelsThe game contains different levels, which are characterized by the number of ropes. What's more, the game will add new items and obstacles, so you must be prepared for changes. You must also remember that the ropes aren't indestructible. You can lose one rope and replace it with another.Scores are accumulated with points. Each lost rope or each obstacle brings a deduction of two points. To keep your score positive, you need to keep replacing ropes. As soon as you lose your last rope, the game is over.PROVENANCE: There is no record of any provenance or documentation of this stone. The stone was identified by Pat Robinson, Cultural Properties Curator at Rocky Mountain National Park, who suggested it may be of local origin. The absence of a property history for the stone is a peculiarity of the stone. NATURAL FIND: These are boulders, not perfect cubes. LENGTH: Approximately 3 feet in length HEIGHT: Approximately 2 1/2 feet in height CARE AND CONDITION: No stains or surface wear. SCORE: 6 QUALITY: It is of good quality, with the presence of a wide distribution and red, gray and green inclusions.Q: Sorting a string of numbers Is there any way to parse/sort a string of numbers in JavaScript. For example given a string containing the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, I want to have the output as 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 4, HTML4.0 Strip CAROUSEL after Hover A cool web design little html tag I just discovered and use all the time for handy CSS design. Basically what it's doing is transforming a simple web banner or a static image into a row of images/icons when you hover over the text you're about to type in, transforming back to a plain text on mouse out. Now, here's a little trick to add just the right amount of spookiness. If you simply click on "Create" in the Strip HTML and add to the HTML of the page you want to add the spooky stuff to, simply hit CTRL+C and copy the rather lengthy spooky nav div, and paste it below the SPOOKY NAV DIV. Remember the SPOOKY NAV DIV is on the page as an inline div just above the text, CSS and HTML, not the div for the spooky text you'll add later. Please note that the SPOOKY NAV DIV needs to be near the top to effect the first word "spooky" last letter "y". With this in place, simply click on "create" and add a nice background and maybe a nice button at the bottom. Copy the long pesky looking HTML dump code you just added above from the SPOOKY NAV DIV. Add a tag between the SPOOKY NAV DIV and the SPOOKY TEXT div that is at the top of the page. Here is what the combined HTML will look like (NOTE: I've copied the long code here, use these or any text tool you have to highlight everything EXCEPT (duplicate that pretty fast with CTRL+D) That should give you the added benefit of an awesome looking spooky nav that you can change around as often as you like. I wonder what your geeky friends would make of this -or rather of the low-tech alternative to Photoshop. Let us know what you think of the spooky version for your webpage and how easy it was for you to add. Stanley Hotel Stanley Hotel, also known as Fairmont Stanley, was a hotel and casino located in Paradise, Nevada. It was built in 1926 as a luxury hotel and was later converted into a casino. It was added to the National Register of Historic Places on December 28, 1991. History The Stanley Hotel was built in 1926 by W. T. Miller, as a luxury hotel. It was designed by Chicago architect Frank Holabird. The hotel originally cost $1 million to build and cost an additional $400,000 to furnish. Miller had a private beach on the shore of Lake Tahoe that was for guests to use. The hotel was featured in the 1929 Hollywood film The Whirlwind, featuring silent screen comedian Buster Keaton, who had paid for the screen time to highlight the hotel's location in the Tahoe wilderness. The hotel was closed for several years in the 1930s due to poor economic conditions during the Great Depression. Miller sold
