Camtasia Studio 8 Crack is a powerful screen recording software that helps you in recording your video screen, .MicroRNA-106a-3p functions as a tumor suppressor in triple-negative breast cancer by targeting VEGF. Triple-negative breast cancers (TNBCs), accounting for nearly 15% of breast cancer cases, are associated with high rates of tumor recurrence and mortality. Recently, microRNAs (miRs) have been suggested to play critical roles in the progression of many tumors. However, the expression of miR-106a-3p and the potential relevance in TNBCs remains unclear. In this study, we found that miR-106a-3p was frequently downregulated in TNBC tissues, and it was also reduced in the blood of patients with TNBC. The loss of miR-106a-3p expression was a predictor for poor prognosis of TNBC patients. Further investigation showed that miR-106a-3p overexpression suppressed the expression of vascular endothelial growth factor (VEGF) in TNBC cells.

Consistently, the inhibition of VEGF expression attenuated the proliferation, migration, and invasion of TNBC cells. In contrast, VEGF knockdown suppressed the growth of miR-106a-3p-transfected TNBC cells. In addition, miR-106a-3p suppressed the growth of tumors by targeting VEGF in vivo. Taken together, these results indicated that miR-106a-3p functions as a tumor suppressor by targeting VEGF to inhibit the proliferation, migration, and invasion of TNBC cells.//-----
