I luv this game! i have played plague inc since the first time its on sale, and every time i pick it up, i get the same feeling every time! its nice to see an indie game that has the same feel as big games, yet has the same feel as a fan made one on steam. I often fall into the mode where i make a character and start with no good name for them at all, just something with a little personality, that makes me want to roll around in the disease and help people out. I mean, if i have nothing to say, why not have the disease say it for me: "The Dinosaur", "Guru Bob", "I dint have no message

A place where dreams come true. In Shrug Island, you can act as a version of yourself or someone else in a different world. You can choose their style of clothes, faces, and hairstyles. What's new in Living In The Ending World:

Menu Politics as usual are just too depressing. Something new to celebrate would be nice. A few last minute Christmas shopping ideas from the UK might do me good. Photo by © Hope Nicholls on Unsplash “Black Friday” is a few days away. It’s a specific point in time where retailers/shops start to discount/clear out their already depleted stock just before the Christmas shopping season. There are online shopping/shopping monday apps for both Android and iOS, which will allow you to purchase items directly from the app and cancel orders on a specific date. Updated: The unofficial (do I use that word in the present tense?) term is now GucciGuru, and the app will now open with the store on a different page than searching (I like that each page is a background with its own URL).
