ProNest 2023 includes full functionality for PlateSaver, a SureCut technology that combines the arc stability of X-Definition plasma with specialized software parameters to dramatically increase material utilization when cutting mild steel. In addition, it contains enhancements to ProNests Production Manager, a complex, interactive computer software application used to monitor, shop, ship, track, and dispatch parts. I want to draw parts in autocad and then transfer them to pronest. How do I do this. I have been struggling for a while now. Also with me using this to draw parts for a plasma what kind of template should I be using If anyone can help me I would be so grateful. And once we get that out of the way if someone can point me in the right direction of like a beginners manual that would be great! ProNEST's have extensive expertise developing Web Applications using C#, .Net SQL-Server J2EE Oracle with all popular 3rd party webControls like Infragistics, Teleric Rad Controls, Component Art to name a few.
