7The Israeli military released a video Thursday purportedly showing the arrival of a Katyusha rocket that hit the country's central region a day earlier, in what is likely the first such salvo launched by Iran.
The launch comes nearly a year after the U.S. Navy fired a round of Tomahawk missiles at the al-Oqab facility, believed by U.S.

intelligence officials to be a vehicle manufacturing facility. According to the Israeli military, the military's intelligence teams saw a rocket fired from an area near where Israel's positions along the Syrian border. "The IDF said that it is clear that the IDF had identified the launch of the Iranian rocket, and that the IDF can confirm it is the same rocket that has been fired at least twice over the past few days," a statement from the military said. The M-302 has been previously fired, according to the military, but has had difficulty hitting Israeli-held territory. The military said that it believed this launch was part of the same batch of rockets, and that the launch was carried out using the same mechanism. Video A statement from the military said, “The IDF wants to make it clear that the Iron Dome system is able to intercept the Iranian rocket, preventing damage to Israeli citizens. The IDF holds the Iranian regime, the Iranian Revolutionary Guards and its proxies responsible for the transfer of the rocket and the planning of the attack.” Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu has warned of a “significant” Iranian escalation of hostilities at the Golan Heights, in light of the potential threat of Islamic State at the northern border. “We will respond forcefully and resolutely against any attempt to harm Israeli citizens,” the military said. An Iranian military officer is being held by the Israeli military for the incident, the Israeli military said. The officer is suspected of “firing the rocket at an Israeli population center,” the military said. The Tuesday attack came amid concerns that Iranian forces would retaliate after a purported deal between Iran and world powers was struck on Tuesday to curb Tehran’s nuclear program. The Israeli military said that the U.S. Navy fired a round of Tomahawk missiles at al-Oqab, but the U.S. military said that it had fired only a few missiles and that none of them hit their intended target. U.S. officials later said they did not know of any damage at al-Oqab, and that the attack was undertaken in order to deter Iran, and to make clear that the U.S. is prepared to act against Iranian aggression. 5ec8ef588b
